Mother-Daughter Team Debuts Halloween Children's Book Through Pumpkin Farms

Fairfield, CT, August 28th, 2023 — Marvelous Minds Press is reaching out to country stores at family-friendly pick-your-own farms and pumpkin patches across the United States to spread the news about the coming release of Superhero Cowgirl Princess. After receiving early encouraging feedback, the new publisher is anticipating that the book will be a welcome addition to gift shops where young families are enjoying their annual Fall activities.

Superhero Cowgirl Princess is the story of how one girl expands her imagination by creating her very own unique Halloween costume. It spotlights a tender and poignant discussion between a mother and daughter about using one's imagination to think past limitations. Even with a dragon included, it's a wonderful Halloween story without being scary at all.

Superhero Cowgirl Princess was created by the mother and daughter team of Janine and Juliet Parker. While it's possible that a children's book has never been twenty years in the making before, that's not the biggest revelation about Superhero Cowgirl Princess. Janine Parker was inspired to write the book following conversations she had with her daughter Juliet when she was three years old and trying to figure out what to dress up as for Halloween. Now, twenty years later, Juliet Parker, a Rochester Institute of Technology Fine Arts graduate, has illustrated the story herself. Don't miss the wonderful back story of the book detailed in Janine's and Juliet's own words at the superherocowgirlprincess.com website.
